

THERESA CASTELLANO
COUNCILWOMAN FIRST WARD

CITY CLERK'S OFFICE

CITY HALL

HOBOKEN, NEW JERSEY 07030-4585

HOME: 798-1962
BUSINESS: 420-2080

November 5, 2002

The Jersey Journal
30 Journal Square
Jersey City, New Jersey 07306

Letter to the Editor:

I would like to update, all concerned regarding a recent mishap involving some Hoboken Little Leaguers.

My heart was broken when I realized what had taken place that day. All I could focus on was getting those dejected boys compensated.

NY Waterways has offered to provide our Little Leaguers what they were promised. It begins with a ninety- (90) minute boat ride and a lunch.

Lisa Herman, from the public relations department is sending me their Spring schedule. I will pick a weekend date before baseball season opens and rest assure, there will be a rain date, just in case.

Sincerely;

Theresa Castellano
1st Ward Councilwoman

3 • The Hoboken Reporter • September 22, 2002

If you ask Hoboken Mayor Dave Roberts, Between the Lines got taken for a ride in reporting how a handful of Little Leaguers supposedly got left at the dock during a ceremony marking the naming of a New York Waterways ferry "The Hoboken." In teasing Roberts about his lack of knowledge about the matter, the column described him as "blissfully unaware" of the situation, giving him the impression the newspaper blamed him for it when no one did. Nearly as upsetting to Roberts was the fact that the column gave credit to Councilwoman Theresa Castellano for helping the kids out. She seems to be a very effective administrator.

his second
ut the plots r's political ted out in nce, if you
him early